

Critical Theory Presentation & Essay

Part I: Presentation

To gain a better understanding of at least one critical theory, each student will give a presentation (15 minutes maximum) on a particular critical model, using a text to exemplify it. The presentation will include:

1. A brief summary of one literary critical model (determined by the day on which you present),
2. A brief summary and discussion of an article from Norton (that is listed on the readings for your presentation day) pertaining to that model, and
3. A brief analysis of a sample text taken from the corresponding Texts & Contexts chapter (the text cannot be the one used for the sample essay). If you have a different text in mind, please let me know at least 1 week before your presentation.

Part II: Written Essay

The week following your presentation, a 4-5 page written essay is due. The essay will contain all of the elements that you presented, but in greater detail and in a formal style (MLA style, including a Works Cited). (Essay grades will be reduced for inaccurate citation and Works Cited submissions.) In addition to handing in a paper copy, your essay will be submitted to Turnitin.com for verification. (See our Course Website for instructions on how to upload. Instructions and codes will be given before the first essay is due.)

Turning In Your Essay

This written essay is due the week following your presentation at the beginning of class. Late papers will receive the penalization indicated on our Greensheet. Failure to follow the below requirements will result in a lower grade. Please read them carefully!

- 4-5 pages, typed and double-spaced in 12pt font with one inch margins
- Works Cited page (outside of the 4-5 pages) in MLA format
- In-text citations in MLA style (parenthetical citation)
- Name, date, course and section number typed at the top left corner of the first page
- Name and page number typed in upper right corner of every page following the first page
- Staple the pages together. (DO NOT FOLD OR PAPERCLIP YOUR PAGES.)
- Proofread everything before you turn it in; there should be no spelling or typographical errors.

GRADING:

You will receive two grades for this assignment: The first will assess your Presentation, which will be based on its effectiveness (preparation, comprehension, depth). A second grade will be assigned to your written Essay, which will be based on your ability to communicate your ideas in a formal piece of writing (see the “Departmental Grading Policy” on the Greensheet).
