

Mid-Term Course Evaluation
Dr. Katherine D. Harris

Course: _____
Year: _____

We are midway through our semester together. As our class moves along, I always evaluate our progress (both on a meta scale and in our daily meetings) and adjust my teaching practices and course content accordingly. For this reason, feedback from students is always useful. Please take a moment to answer the following questions about your learning experience, the course content and teaching methods.

Your Learning Experience

1. What is the best way for you to learn any of the following: writing process or reading material?

2. What you have learned about yourself as a student from the readings, writing and discussions in this course?

3. How often do you participate in class discussions? Can you become a more engaged participant in the class discussions? How?

4. How has your performance in this class impacted your performance in other classes?

Course Content

5. Has the general discussion of the essays/literature given you a clear understanding of the course's purpose? Why or why not?

6. What has interested you most about this course's topic?

7. Would you take another course in this topic? Why or why not?

Teaching Methods

8. Describe a successful teaching practice that you have seen executed by Dr. Harris (group work, discussion, student presentations, etc.)

9. What teaching methods could Dr. Harris use to improve your understanding of the materials?
