

Michael Alston

gRED Clinical Program Director

Over a decade of experience in the Pharma/BioTech Industry possessing extensive ICH/GCP knowledge in global markets. Received a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and a Masters degree in Clinical Research Administration. He began his career as an Administrative Assistant on a Clinical Team at Roche in Nutley, NJ and became interested in Clinical Trials and Research, He has independently managed all components of clinical trials, leading multidisciplinary, cross-functional Study Management Teams to ensure program deliverables were met. He is a strategic leader accountable for the evaluation of strategic, development and delivery of programs who defines and implements company vision and strategy for study management. He is recognized by peers and leadership as an expert thought partner in drug development with through understanding of all aspects of clinical drug development.