Program Information

Welcome to this General Education course.

SJSU's General Education Program establishes a strong foundation of versatile skills, fosters curiosity about the world, promotes ethical judgment, and prepares students to engage and contribute responsibly and cooperatively in a multicultural, information-rich society. General education classes integrate areas of study and encourage progressively more complex and creative analysis, expression, and problem solving.

The General Education Program has three goals:

Goal 1: To develop students' core competencies for academic, personal, creative, and professional pursuits.

Goal 2: To enact the university's commitment to diversity, inclusion, and justice by ensuring that students have the knowledge and skills to serve and contribute to the well-being of local and global communities and the environment.

Goal 3: To offer students integrated, multidisciplinary, and innovative study in which they pose challenging questions, address complex issues, and develop cooperative and creative responses.

More information about the General Education Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) can be found on the GE website \(https://sjsu.edu/general-education/ge-requirements/overview/learning-outcomes.php\).

Course Goals

Psychology of Prejudice will focus on the psychology of prejudice, inequality, and discrimination. While there are many aspects to prejudice (i.e. very broad-ranging social and political consequences for individuals and groups), the purpose of this course is to explore the psychology of prejudice and discrimination in the US, the psychological factors involved, and the psychological effects on individuals and groups.

From both theoretical and experiential perspectives, we will explore issues relating to those who hold prejudiced attitudes and those who are targets of those attitudes. We will examine prejudice relating to race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, age, etc.

Class sessions will include lectures, discussions, and video clips. Activities that focus on prejudice and diversity will be an important part of classroom events. The class will engage in small group and individual experiential exercises designed to facilitate intrapersonal and interpersonal awareness of issues related to prejudice, discrimination, racial/ethnic identity, etc.

Students will be given an opportunity to investigate topics in psychology related to prejudice and to practice applying critical thinking skills. Within the context of psychology, broad topic areas include (among others):

- stereotypes: formation, functions, maintenance, change
- the underlying psychological processes of prejudice: development & maintenance
- "old-fashioned" vs. "modern" racism + ageism & sexism

 NOTE: Many topics in this course may evoke strong emotions. Within the framework of individual expression, students are expected to show respect for others and their viewpoints, even when those views are opposed to those of the student.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

GE Area S: Self, Society, and Equality in the U.S.

SJSU Studies courses -- Areas R, S, and V -- help students integrate knowledge between and among disciplines. In Area S courses, students study the interrelationships of individuals, racial groups, and cultural groups to understand and appreciate issues of diversity, inclusion, inequalities, and justice in the United States.

GE Area S Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of an Area S course, students should be able to:

1. describe how identities are shaped by cultural and societal influences within contexts of equality and inequality. Examples include, but are not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, religion, disability status, age, generation, regional origin, national identity, language, and intersectionalities;
2. analyze historical, economic, political, or social processes that shape diversity, equality, and structured inequalities in the U.S. and reflect on one's own identities and positions within these structures;
3. evaluate social actions which have or have not led to greater equality and social justice in the U.S.; and
4. engage in constructive interactions about social issues in the U.S. within the framework of equality and inequalities.

Writing Practice: Students will write a minimum of 3000 words in a language and style appropriate to the discipline.

Course Requirements and Assignments

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”

Your grade in the course will be based on the following:

1. Examinations (30 pts each. 3 exams = 90 pts total)

There will be three exams and they will consist of 30 multiple choice questions worth 1 point each. Exams will be designed to measure knowledge and understanding of the material discussed in lecture as well as the course textbook. Each exam will be worth a total of 30 points. The final exam will not be comprehensive and based on material covered after exam two.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR EXAMS

LECTURE NOTES AND POWERPOINT SLIDES ARE NOT POSTED ON-LINE. If you miss lecture for any reason, it is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to get the lecture notes from one of your classmates. I will not email or copy any lectures for students. Exams will be based on lecture material and assigned readings.

Examinations: Students are expected to start their exam at the beginning of our scheduled course time (i.e. 12:00 PM). Students that begin the exam after 12:10 PM will automatically receive a ten-point deduction. Reason being, this creates an unfair advantage; students arriving late have more time to prepare than the rest of the class.

No extensions or make-up exams will be given except in cases of reasonable and documented academic reasons, emergencies, serious illness, or similar seriously disruptive events. If such a circumstance should arise, please contact instructor twelve hours before the scheduled exam.

If students contact instructor within the 12-hour window, a ten-point deduction will be implemented on the make-up exam. Students will have five days to make up exams.

2. Assignments

Each student will participate in assignments that will be organized around the spheres ('isms) which we are investigating in this class (i.e. race, gender, sexual orientation, abilities, and age).

a) Interview Assignment (40 pts)

Your assignment is to choose someone from a target group to interview about their personal experiences with prejudice, discrimination, inequality, tolerance, etc. The interview should focus on their perspective as a target group member, e.g. person of color or gay/lesbian or person with a disability, or person with multiracial identity, etc. Requirements will be presented at a later date.

b) Online discussions on Canvas – Discussion Questions (15 points each; 105 total points)

- Discussions are a requirement for this course, and “Discussion” assignments will be used for online discussion about real-world/class topics. Discussion questions encourages an online community where students can ask open-ended questions or curiosities, and apply them to real-world applications.

c) Film Analysis assignment (35 points) – Watch an international/social justice film and respond to a series of prompts based on Bloom’s taxonomy and course theories.

d) Stereotype reduction paper (30 pts). This assignment will be a paper describing a negative stereotype/prejudice you may have about another group and discussing how you might reduce it. Most importantly, you must discuss at least three specific techniques/strategies that you believe will be effective in reducing your negative prejudice and clearly explain why you think these ways would be successful.

IMPORTANT NOTES FOR ASSIGNMENTS:

Writing assignments that do not meet the minimum page count will not receive credit. TITLE AND REFERENCE PAGE ARE NOT PART OF THE PAGE COUNT!

This policy is implemented due to the high volume of grading. Before I read a single word on assignments, I check the page count. If your assignment does not meet the minimum page requirement, I will not read it, and move on to the next student.

All assignments must be typed in APA format.

To receive complete credit on your papers, you must pay careful attention to grammar, spelling, sentence construction, etc. Spell and grammar checkers do not catch all errors - you must PROOFREAD IT! Even better, have someone else proofread it. Assignments that contain many spelling and grammatical errors will result in substantial point reduction.

I WILL ACCEPT LATE ASSIGNMENTS! However, late assignments will result in half points, and if it does not meet requirements, I will dock more points. Students will have one week to turn in late assignments. If your assignment is not submitted after a week from the due date, it will result in zero points. Late assignments will not receive comments or feedback. It is in your best interest to turn assignments in on time.

How is "on time" defined in this course? Assignments on their assigned due date must be uploaded on to Canvas before midnight. If assignment is submitted after midnight it is considered late (see above language for late paper policy). The instructor will implement a 10 minute grace period.

EXTRA CREDIT WILL BE AVAILABLE

Communication is key! I understand "things happen," and if an incident should arise, it must be communicated 12 hours before the due date (i.e., 12:00 pm). I will take your notice into consideration when evaluating assignments.

Final Examination or Evaluation

The final exam will not be cumulative and will be based only on the material covered after exam two.

Exam #3: Monday, May 20 9:45 AM-12:00 PM

"Faculty members are required to have a culminating activity for their courses, which can include a final examination, a final research paper or project, a final creative work or performance, a final portfolio of work, or other appropriate assignment."
